

EDUCATION YEARBOOK

ADVERTISING FEATURE

To advertise on this page, call 020 8359 5860

Find the latest on education, go to www.times-series.co.uk/education

Do you know your child's potential?

Advance Tutorial College in Mill Hill will help your child reach the peak of educational ability HAVING tutored children for more than 15 years, Sylvia and John, at Advance Tutorial College (ATC), have a wealth of experience in catering to the educational needs of children. By expanding their premises, they are now offering even more pupils aged five-16 the chance to join their after-school tuition centre in Mill Hill.

The college provides children with the opportunity to succeed in a small classroom environment alongside other students. Unlike other tutoring centres, which offer standardised worksheets and computer programs, the tutors at ATC will tailor the course to match the needs of the child, while strictly following the guidelines of the National Curriculum.

The staff deliver traditional and holistic child-focused teaching rather than just worksheets and computer programs. Parents can request an increased focus on maths, or English, or a balance between the two.

The centre is renowned for its fully structured 11+ entrance exam course, which has enabled children to gain acceptance into some of the most sought-after schools in London including Queen Elizabeth for Boys, and Haberdashers' Aske's. Through the extensive use of textbooks, past papers and relevant homework, more than eight out of ten children completing the course every year obtain a place in the school of their choice. Furthermore, Sylvia and John work alongside parents in order to guide them through the difficult process of finding the right school for their child.

Mrs N Patel, from Edgware, says: "The teachers not only worked hard on my daughter's academic training but also supported us all the way through, from choosing schools to preparing for interviews and making the final school decision. I felt like they really knew my daughter".

The college boasts young, enthusiastic tutors who generate a positive learning environment. Having climbed the educational ladder themselves, they are in the best position to teach new methods of learning currently used in schools, such as the 'chunking' division method, which parents often struggle with. Tutors are in constant liaison with the parents about their child's progress, and complete a report at the end of every term with targets that must be met.

Overall, if your child needs additional support with schoolwork, requires assistance with the 11+ entrance exam, or simply has the capability to excel beyond his/her school year, give ATC a call on 020 8959 9825/020 8959 8995 and wait and see how your child's potential can be unlocked.

● 524 Watford Way, Mill Hill, NW7 4SY, www.advancededucation.co.uk

